Mystery on

By: Sheri Potter

Young members of a community club solicit the town's eccentric inventor, a strange scientist named Dr. VonDrugen, for help with a clean-up project at a local park. When the go-getters find themselves trapped in the house with mysterious disappearances and occurrences happening left and right, they start to wonder if the rumors really are true... could Dr. VonDrugen be a mad scientist turning children into cats?! To add to the mayhem, a group of school bullies shows up to try to scare the students away. After all, if Dr. VonDrugen helps them clean up the park, they'll have to find a new hangout!
